

Stuff

Stuff gets everywhere, under your feet, and in your hair
Stuff never goes away, you get more, everyday
Stuff's always hanging around, clogging you up and bringing you down
Stuff takes your energy, so put it back where it's supposed to be

And as you go on through your life
You get more stuff like the kids and wife
And they get more stuff for you
Until your house is a stuff zoo!
And there's stuff everywhere you go,
In every orifice you know
Until you're drowning in the stuff
'Till you've had enough, had enough

Stuff gets everywhere, under your feet, and in your hair
Stuff never goes away, you get more, everyday
Stuff's always hanging around, clogging you up and bringing you down
Stuff takes your energy, so put it back where it's supposed to be

And as you go on through your life
You get more stuff that the kids'll like
And they get more stuff for you
Until your house is a stuff zoo!
Then you get into Feng Shui
It says "throw it all away"
Or you're drowning in the stuff
And you've had enough

Yeah you've had enough, and I've had enough
Yeah I've had enough, so goodbye to my
STUFF!
